

Launching Pennsylvania Seminars to help Municipalities and Businesses Save Energy

West Penn Power has teamed up with the North Central Pennsylvania Planning and Development Commission to bring municipalities and businesses a timely workshop series, aimed at educating, facilitating, and supporting energy efficiency projects through Act 129 programs. We will host 3 workshops:

DuBois

Tuesday, February 7, 2012, 8:30 – 11:00 AM EST
Clarion Hotel
1896 Rich Hwy.
DuBois, PA 15801

Bradford

Thursday, February 9, 2012, 8:30 – 11:00 AM EST
Foster Township Municipal Building
1185 East Main Street
Bradford, PA 16701

Ridgway

Tuesday March 15, 2012, 8:30 – 11:00 AM EST
North Central Pennsylvania Planning and Development Commission
651 Montmorenci Road
Ridgway, PA 15853

Municipalities and businesses are invited to join us at these FREE events, which will include a series of presentations, vendor exhibits, free breakfast, and giveaways to help you save money and start the year efficiently. Learn about:

- Exciting new changes to incentive and rebate programs for commercial and industrial energy efficiency projects.
- Resources offered by North Central Pennsylvania Planning and Development Commission, including:
 - Technical assistance
 - Training workshops
 - Energy assessments
 - Utility bill analysis
 - Bulk purchase consortium
- New laws concerning lighting taking effect in 2012.
- Meet your local Trade Allies who can walk you through the rebate process.

To register, call Celia Salgado at 212-946-2846.

For more information on the Act 129 energy efficiency programs offered by Penelec, Penn Power, West Penn Power and Met-Ed, visit www.energysavePA.com, email energysavePA@saic.com, or call (c/o SAIC) 866-554-4430.